Mr. and Mrs. William Robert Perry announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Betty Jane, to Kenneth Dale Cremer, son of Mrs. Bertha Cremer of Kinkskake, Ill.

Many so-called "dull" children are not dull at all... they simply have an unbalanced diet or illness retarding normal development of perception or expression. Your child's health, during formative years may determine his whole future.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL HEALTH EXAMINATIONS ARE IMPORTANT... If your children are active, they absorb more than their share of falls, cuts, jabs and sprains. The concussion of such forces produces spinal misalignments. Misaligned vertebrae in the spinal column will interfere with nerve transmission between brain and tissue cell and may cause your child to be retarded in school work.

See Your Family Chiropractor

Your Chiropractor is trained in locating interference to transmission of nerve energy caused by misalignment in the spine. He will determine whether your child has trouble of this nature and will correct misalignment with spinal adjustments.

You'll be surprised how rapidly your child responds to Chiropractic care.

JET BOMBERS

rived in Viet Nam safely after their mission.

Strike At Dusk

He said no assessment of damage was available since the bombing began at 6:45 p.m. and ended at 7:30 p.m. 5:30 a.m. 257 as darkness was falling over the jungle area.

The casualty report was the first since new censorship policies were imposed for security reasons. Daily battle losses showed American and South Vietnamese troops are no longer issued.

The 28 new combat deaths raised the number of Americans killed in action since January, 1961, to 317, according to official figures. Today's report listed five American ground operations of battalion size or larger during the week ending last Saturday — a record. All were in the northern part of South Viet Nam where American Marines are stationed.

Government Losses
Vietnamese losses for the week included 240 killed and 340 wounded. A total of 155 government soldiers were listed as missing or captured.

The report said 419 guerrillas were killed and 24 captured. In ground fighting, Communist snipers and mortars harassed American infantrymen at the Bien Hoa air base 15 miles northeast of Saigon throughout the night. U.S. casualties were described as "very light."

"Moderate to heavy" casualties were reported Tuesday night when a river craft manned by a Vietnamese crew and three American military advisers hit a Viet Cong mine 23 miles southwest of Saigon. The spokesman said there were casualties among the three Americans, but details were withheld under new security policies.

The vessel was supporting Vietnamese troops on a ground operation in the jungles and swamps of the Mekong River delta. At Bien Hoa, the guerrillas opened up with small arms fire at 8:25 p.m. Tuesday.

U.S. Troops Answer
Artillerymen of the 1st Infantry Division answered with a heavy barrage and sporadic shooting continued until 1:45 a.m. when a few dozen guerrillas rose up out of shoulder-high brush and charged under the cover of machinegun fire. A dozen or so more Viet Cong followed in a second wave 15 minutes later.

Both times, American counterfire drove the guerrillas back into hiding, but intermittent gunfire continued until shortly before daybreak.

Far to the north 40 U.S. Marine amphibious tractors Amtracs rolled ashore near Da Nang for use in Leather neck patrol's against Communist forces threatening U.S. installations in the Da Nang area. Two of the tractors are giant 55-ton vehicles designed for mine-sweeping duty. The other 30 are smaller.

HUGE BLAST
WASHINGTON 20 — The Defense Department Thursday set off an underwater explosion of 4,000 tons of obsolete ordnance to help develop better ways of detecting nuclear explosives below the earth's surface.

The motor vessel Coastal Mariner was sunk off the Virginia coast with the outmoded mines, torpedo warheads and other explosives aboard. Devices set the blast off when the vessel passed the 1,000 foot mark.

The explosion kicked up a plume of water 600 feet high. A Navy spokesman said it was "successful."

LONDON 20 — Twenty-four crewmen from a Greek ship badly damaged in a channel collision reached land safely Thursday. Five were injured, none seriously. The captain and six other crew members remained aboard the 1,276-ton steamer Nymfa as an attempt was made to tow her to Southampton. The other ship, the 17,083-ton Liberian tanker Francisco, continued her voyage to Rotterdam. The collision occurred Wednesday night.

Designer Sticks To Her Knitting

NEW YORK — Jeanine Heller knows her needles and knows a good yarn when she sees it — as one might expect of a knitwear designer.
But she also knows machinery and knits that just as helpful as needles and yarn in her career.
She brings to the mill slacks of yarn which she has twisted together into the color combinations she wants, and then, experimenting on the machine herself, she will try to achieve the knit design she spends five or six days working in a factory. Heller knows the machine can knit anything she can quickly and accurately.

Heller travels around the world for three months of the year, visiting for ideas. Then she spends a month in the U.S. in consultation with Chemstrand Corp., which makes Acrylics together with which she works.

She gets her ideas for design from museums, galleries, flower shows. Some designs strike her as she watches people — a Suburban in Portugal, a worker in Mexico.

"I don't design 'funky' things," she said. "I have to remember that Americans are quite conservative."

The poor-boy sweaters that were popular in Paris for two years didn't go in America, for example. They were form-fitting tubular affairs.

They were too sexy for Americans," Mrs. Heller said.

Miss Carol Burrow Entertains With Party At Her Home
Miss Carol Burrow entertained her friends and family in the front lawn at her home in Hazel on Friday, July 16, from two o'clock in the afternoon to nine-thirty o'clock in the evening.

The afternoon was spent playing games including basketball, volleyball, and badminton.

The climax of the party was a trip to the woods to gather wood for the evening meal consisting of roasted venison and parsnips. Those attending were Gladys Dale, Ruth Benson, Irma Winchester, Lucinda Adams, Brenda Bennett, Kay Adams, and Margie Stewart.

FLOOD DEATHS LISTED
SHOUL, Korea (AP) — The government today reported 74 missing and 140 injured in floods plaguing the central provinces. More than 200,000 persons were reported homeless.

DEAR MOTHER: Unless you can track down the instigator and charge him with slander which is about as easy as putting toothpaste back in the tube, you can do nothing but hold your head high and ignore the talk.

DEAR ABBY: I know this letter will not get in the column but I want my say about "Second Place," the husband who resents his wife's closeness to her parents. You said the wife needed a psychiatrist. Abby, I think you need one. I am married and I see my parents every day. I wouldn't think of buying anything or making an important decision without their okay. And my husband doesn't resent this closeness. I love my parents deeply and they won't be here forever so I am making the most of everything.

SANDY IN PERIL
DEAR SANDY: I am all for maintaining a close relationship with parents after marriage. But "Second Place" complained because he was in second place after his wife's parents. Wise parents teach their children that their mates must always come first. True, parents are not here forever—but neither are mates.

DEAR ABBY: I will be a September bride and all our plans are made for the wedding. My future in-law has warned me that if I serve alcoholic beverages at the wedding dinner, she will not attend. Our wedding will be held in a restaurant and the wedding dinner will be held at a fast-food hotel. I planned to serve wine at the dinner. We do not have any rivalry

To Be Married

Miss Judy Overbey

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Overbey of Murray Route Two announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Judy, to Donald Oliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Oliver of Murray.

Miss Overbey is a 1963 graduate of Murray College High School and attended Murray State College. She is now employed at the Bank of Murray.

Mr. Oliver is a 1963 graduate of Murray College High School and is now a junior at Murray State College. A July wedding is planned.

Dear Abby . . .

It's Almost Impossible!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Shortly before school let out for the summer vacation we took our daughter (she is 16) out of school so she could attend a wedding out of town with us. Arrangements were made for her to take her examinations, get her grades, etc. We made a vacation trip of it and returned three weeks later. The first thing I had that something was wrong was when several of my friends telephoned to ask, "Did your daughter come with you?" I couldn't understand why they would think she wouldn't.

Finally, a dear friend told me that it was all over town that we had taken our daughter out of school to place her in a home for unwed mothers! When she returned, the rumor had changed to, "She must have either lost the baby or had an abortion!" Our daughter has a nice circle of friends and none of them has ever been in any trouble. How can responsible, innocent people combat a rumor of this kind?

DEAR ABBY: I know this letter will not get in the column but I want my say about "Second Place," the husband who resents his wife's closeness to her parents. You said the wife needed a psychiatrist. Abby, I think you need one. I am married and I see my parents every day. I wouldn't think of buying anything or making an important decision without their okay. And my husband doesn't resent this closeness. I love my parents deeply and they won't be here forever so I am making the most of everything.

friends. My parents feel that since they are paying for everything, my fiancée's mother should not interfere. My fiancée feels badly about this, but says she is his mother and should the way she is. But he wouldn't blame me for having what. My parents say that I should not change my plans to suit his narrow-minded mother. I want to do the right thing. Can you advise me?

DEAR MIXED UP: The wedding and all festivities are the bride's responsibility and I think your fiancée's mother is being unreasonable and difficult. What she wishes to drink or abstain from drinking is her business, but she shouldn't be allowed to make that decision for all the other guests. Remind her that wine was served at The Last Supper.

Mrs. John Ryan Has Summer Luncheon At Woman's Club
Mrs. John Ryan entertained with a lovely luncheon at the Murray Woman's Club House.

The summer occasion was in honor of her granddaughter, Miss Stephanie Allen of Pilonook, Oregon, and Mrs. Edward Southoff, Mrs. Charles Hamlin, and Mrs. D. F. McConnell, all of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Mrs. Ben Cooper of Louisville.

The seventeen luncheon tables for four were covered in cloths of gold and brown burlap. The buffet table was overlaid with orange burlap and centered with a gorgeous arrangement of colorful, glass-blown, and bronze driftwood. Other arrangements of the same flowers were used at vantage points throughout the club house.

A most entertaining program was presented in the afternoon by Mrs. Southoff, Mrs. Harlan Hodges of Murray, and Mrs. Mary Bordeaux of Las Vegas, Nevada.

Mrs. Hodges entertained with an episode of "Fond Memories" in her very talented way. Two beautiful classical numbers were played by Mrs. Southoff on the piano. Interesting events of her travels and of her experiences in teaching at Las Vegas were told by Mrs. Bordeaux.

Out of town guests present for the luncheon included Mrs. Winifred Miller of Springfield, Tenn.; Mrs. J. W. Atkins of McKenna, Tenn.; Mrs. Margaret Berry of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Mary Bordeaux of Las Vegas; and the five special honorees.

Household Hints

United Press International
To get oven racks clean the no-scrub way, submerge them in a laundry tub full of hot water, add a cup of sal soda concentrate and let soak for a couple of hours. Burnt-on grease just peels off with normal washing after this soaking.

There's no need to grope for the dust pan if it is one designed to fit on the broom handle for storage.

June and July are the best months to spray areas infested with poison ivy. Plants take several weeks to die. Normally, two or more applications are necessary to control a little vinegar into the bottle.

The size of your food bill depends somewhat on your address. Food costs are lowest in the South. The difference between the South and Northeast may run $7.50 per week for the same cart of groceries, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Use braid or fringe to trim the inside edges and bottoms of ready-made curtains to give them a custom look. Let the braid or fringe pick up another color in the room color scheme.

To thin ink that has thickened, add a few drops of water.

One coat of pliable roof paint applied on a leaky garden hose will restore it to use.

Tappan Enters Portable Market, Two Dishwashers

As its first entry into the portable dishwasher market, The Tappan Company has introduced two completely new models of its Revers-Jet dishwasher.

Manufacturing built-in dishwashers since 1931, Tappan is offering two full-sized, front-loading portable models with the exclusive automatic reversing water action patented by the company.

Designed as "convertible portables", these new models have four free-wheeling casters, white aqua Ponton top and white front, side and back panels. Both models offer the convenience of an automatic dishwasher and increased counter space, yet may be easily built-in at any time.

The fastest connector snaps on to a faucet adapter which is furnished. A double hose supplies hot water to the dishwasher and drains it into the sink through the special connector. A convenient storage compartment on the top rear of the machine completely hides the hose and power cord when not in use.

Tappan engineers claim wash action improvements have been made by the use of: 1) a double stainless steel screen on the sump; 2) the most powerful pump ever used in a dishwasher; 3) a food waste ejector pump; 4) a wash-on detergent cup.

The exclusive new double screen stainless steel sump prevents even the smallest food particles from being recirculated and redeposited on clean dishes and is the largest used in any dishwasher. While basically self-cleaning, the screen may be easily removed by simply lifting it out from the bottom of the machine.

A specially designed high-powered food waste ejector pump removes trapped food particles from the machine. Featuring the most powerful recirculating water pump in the industry, Tappan's new machine is capable of pumping 40 gallons of water every minute, 28 feet high. This volume and velocity, unsurpassed by any other dishwasher, provides a much stronger washing action.

Self-adjusting door cams replace old style door latches to assure a tight, leak-proof seal. These cams assure a positive seal even after door seals settle with age, by adjusting automatically. This new system is activated by springs mounted in the door which also provides easy access for cleaning.

Other exclusive features found on Tappan's new dishwasher line are: a new detergent dispenser that automatically adds the detergent, in solution—not dumped during the washing cycle; and a special cover for the silverware basket that prevents small items from being forced out of the basket.

Tappan's deluxe 1850-model features two Revers-Jet spray arms that provide the ultimate in washing action. Every item is scrubbed and rinsed individually from two directions. It is operated by push buttons on a fully lighted control panel and offers seven cycle selections, an automatic rinse injector and thermostatically controlled drying system. It is rated as 18 NEMA table settings.

Sandy Koufax Single Wins 3-2 Last Night Against Astros

By LEONARD A. GRANATO
United Press International

Sandy Koufax isn't such a good pitcher as he is a pinch hitter, but he was such a good pinch hitter that the Los Angeles Dodgers skipper lifted him to the bottom of the ninth inning with two out and two men on base.

Koufax came to the plate against the Houston Astros Tuesday night with the score 2-3 and runners on first and second with two out. He struck out a single into left field to score Jim Lefebvre with the winning run in the 3-2 victory.

It was Sandy's 17th victory of the season. The southpaw has won 11 consecutive games. He gave up but three hits, walked only two and struck out 10 men for the 12th time this season.

Increase Lead
The Dodgers increased their National League lead to 3½ games over the Cincinnati Reds, who were beaten 8-6 by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In other NL action, St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 4-3. Milwaukee downed the Mets 7-1 and San Francisco edged Chicago 2-0.

In the American League the New York Yankees downed the Boston Red Sox 6-3. The Los Angeles Angels checked the Minnesota Twins 9-1, the Baltimore Orioles overpowered the Cleveland Indians 6-1 and the Detroit Tigers edged the Washington Senators 2-0. Chicago and Kansas City were idle.

Bob Bailey had three hits in cluding his first big-league grand slam home run, and five runs batted in to pace the Pirates' onslaught against Cincinnati. Bob Veale picked up his 10th victory after surviving a three-run first inning in which he walked the first four batters. Sammy Ellis was the loser.

McCarver Homers
Tim McCarver's ninth home run of the season in the sixth inning pushed the Cardinals past the Phillies. It was his third homer off lower Jim Bunning this season and his sixth against the Phils. Bunning also gave up circuit clouts to Tito Francona and Lou Brock. The Milwaukee Braves scored all their runs in a wild seventh inning to extend the Mets' losing streak to 10, matching their longest losing skid of the season. Hank Aaron's 19th homer of the season accounted for three Braves runs.

Bob Shaw twirled the Cubs for his ninth victory while Willie McCovey hit his 20th home run of the season.

AIRMAN ACQUITTED
CLARK AIR BASE, The Philippines 6PM — A 40-year-old U. S. Airman was acquitted Thursday of charges that he twice raped a 17-year-old half blind mentally retarded Filipino girl. An eight man jury announced its verdict at the conclusion of the three-day court martial here of Elson Stone, of Humen, S. C.

Reinvesting Of Bonds Is Good Business
Holders of Series K United States Savings Bonds which have matured or are maturing are urged by Lester Nanny, Savings Bonds Chairman for Calloway County, to consider reinvesting the proceeds in Series H Bonds which also pay interest by Treasury check each six months.
Mr. Nanny points out that Series H Savings Bonds pay an average interest of 3.75 per cent, as compared with 2.75 per cent which H Bonds have been drawing.
As a follow-up to their 23rd semi-annual interest check, owners of Series K Bonds now receive a letter from the Savings Bonds Division calling attention to the reinvestment procedure under which Series E and H Bonds may be obtained for maturing K Bonds without regard to the annual limitation of holdings.
Mr. Nanny warns K Bond holders that final interest payment will be made ONLY at the time the maturing Bond is submitted for redemption or reinvestment in E or H Bonds, which began maturing in May 1964. Interest had their maturity term extended so that these bonds draw no interest beyond their maturity date.
Should holders of maturing K Bonds desire to switch to an appreciation type bond, Mr. Nanny suggests the Series E Savings Bond. The E Bond is sold at a discount, i. e., $750 for a $1,000 Bond.
Mr. Nanny also cautioned K Bond holders that the amounts of six month H-Bond checks will differ from those of the K Bond. The H Bond yields 254 percent for the first three checks and a straight 4 per cent for the last 17 checks.
Borrowers will assist K Bond holders in making the transfer, Mr. Nanny added.
The amount of Series K Bonds now outstanding is around 800 million dollars of which some 9 million dollars represents maturing K's. The

Stottlemire Hits Grand Slam Tuesday

By LEONARD A. GRANATO
United Press International

Mel Stottlemire, whose pitching arm put the New York Yankees into the World Series last season, has earned himself a niche in the Bronx Bomber archives with his bat.

The tall sinker-ball artist hit an inside-the-park grand slam home run Tuesday to beat the Boston Red Sox 6-3 and earn his 10th victory of the season. Spud Chandler and Don Larsen are the only other Yankee pitchers in history to hit grand slammers—and there were done the easy way, by hitting the ball out of the park.

Stottlemire came to the plate against Bill Monbouquette in the fifth inning after two walks and a single had loaded the bases. He hit the first pitch on a line between Carl Yastrzemski and Jim Coaker. The ball rolled into left centerfield, 497 feet from the plate.

As Stottlemire rounded second base, third base coach Frank Crosetti was halfway down the line waving him on. The pitcher slid into the plate but Boston catcher Bob Tillman had no play on him as the relayed throw skipped past him.

In other American League contests, Los Angeles bombed league-leading Minnesota 9-1. Baltimore overpowered Cleveland 6-1 and Willie Horton's two-run homer carried Detroit past Washington 2-0. Kansas City and Chicago were not scheduled.

In the National League, St. Louis edged Philadelphia 4-3. Pittsburgh outslugged Cincinnati 6-6. Milwaukee extended the New York losing streak to 10 games 7-1. San Francisco edged Chicago 2-0 and Los Angeles tripped Houston 3-2.
The Angels climbed all over the Minnesota pitching staff, getting 15 hits in their assault of the league leaders. Marcelino Lopez, the Angel hurler, held the mighty bats of the Twins to only four hits.

McNally Wins Fifth
Rus Snyder and Boop Powell hit two-run home runs in the Baltimore outburst. The Orioles, Dave McNally won his fifth game in nine decisions, losing his shutout bid on a ninth-inning home run by Chuck Hinton.

Horton had been hitless for the last three games before leading off on Washington pitcher Horie Kipplitz. His 21st home run tied him with Rocky Colavito for the league lead.

The victory went to Dave Wickenden, his first since April 18 and his second of the season against eight losses.

CHAPTER 16
I TRIED to get Lucia Bernard to say something more about her plans, but she wouldn't. She drove back to the Relais Fleuries and gave the ignition key to me.

"Do not try to follow me," she said.
"Oh, I understand. If you have any second thoughts and want to get in touch with me, Adele will know where to find me." As I spoke, Madame, and thank you.

"Monsieur." She got out and shut the door.
I drove back to Mougins, where the night concierge put a call through to Sy Logan in Paris after a ten-minute delay. Sy was already on the line when I picked up the phone in my room.

"Did you see her?"
"Yes." "Great! Where?"
"In an unoccupied house just outside Nice." I told him about the mechanics of the meeting and then went on: "I have a tape. Do you want to hear it?"
"Give me a moment to switch on. Okay, go ahead."

I played back the tape with the miniature loudspeakers of the recorder clamped to the telephone. When it ended I switched off and said: "That's it."

Sy did not reply for a moment. I could hear him discussing it with someone else in the office, but I could not hear what they were saying. Then he came back.

"How do you evaluate this, Piet? Is she on the level?"
"I think that her account of what happened in the villa at the time Arthé was murdered rings true."

"So do we. And?"
"As you may have gathered from the questions I asked, I found the rest of it hard to believe."

"She could believe it. Delayed shock and all that jazz. Neurotic young woman sees murderers under beds?"
"I think that's how it was meant to sound."

"Could be. Okay, we'll analyze all that after it's transcribed. Now then, what about the background stuff? I take it that the Adele mentioned on the tape is the intermediary. How did you get to her? What's the story there?"

"No story, I told you. I made a deal."
"Well, you can't forget it now. Come on, we'll tape it."
"Sorry."

His tone sharpened. "Now, 4088, Piet, have a bit of sense. You've picked a tough assignment, you've done a great job."

The week of July 25-31 is "Farm Safety Week" in Kentucky. Safety is important throughout the year, but during this week I would urge our farm families to take a look around their homes, their farms, and farm buildings and search out and correct any hazards that exist.

We often live with safety hazards around our homes or other buildings without realizing the dangers they present. Too, we often take our safety for granted until an accident happens. Many times we see or read of serious farm accidents without perhaps realizing that a similar accident could happen on our farm or in our home.

The nature of much farm work, and particularly farm machinery, presents various hazards. A moment's carelessness can lead to years or even a lifetime of pain and suffering.

Jack Crowner, farm director of WAVE-TV, is State chairman of Farm Safety Week this year. One of the activities of the Farm Safety Committee is to select a State "safe farm family."

This year's safe farm family is the Leo Madden family of Route 4, Cynthiana. They were honored for their efforts toward maintaining safety around their home and farm. However, I am sure their greatest reward is going through a year without a serious accident, and constantly guarding against accidents.

So, during Farm Safety Week, I would urge our farm families to dedicate themselves to making their homes and farms as safe as possible. Then I would challenge them to be safety-minded throughout the month ahead.

This is truly the "county fair season" in Kentucky with several fairs in progress most every day. I would like to take this opportunity to invite Kentuckians to attend at least one of these entertaining and colorful events.

Between now and early fall, some 70 fairs will be held. Some of these will be community events, with others featuring programs that will draw entries from several counties. County fairs offer rural and urban people an opportunity to display cooking and handicrafts. Too, exhibits allow viewers to see what other people are doing. The many exhibits which a county fair offers can be educational in that they show the best that is being produced in an area, revealing goals which others can seek to attain.

Some people say that county fairs are on the decline. However, this is not the case, as new fairs are created each year. While some do close out each year, many others show an increase in attendance from year to year. Many fairs are realizing growth in the total number of entries in almost every department. Perhaps, more important is the quality of the products and animals being exhibited.

STAMP SALE BEGINS

WASHINGTON 20 — A commemorative stamp in tribute to Dante on the 700th anniversary of his birth went on general sale today.

President Johnson, praising Dante's "Divine Comedy" as a work of "enduring meaning and significance," announced Saturday the special postage stamp in honor of the famous Italian poet, philosopher and political scientist.

BEATTY IMPROVED

VENTURA, Calif. 20 — Clyde Beatty, one of the world's foremost animal trainers, was reported "somewhat improved" Saturday at Memorial Community Hospital where he is being treated for cancer of the esophagus.

However, attendants said the 62-year-old former film star and circus owner remained in serious condition. He entered the hospital July 8.

FARM FACTS

PASTURE POTENTIALS. During the heyday of the Green Pastures Program a decade ago the idea was often proposed that Kentucky should be recognized as THE PASTURE STATE. Kentucky, with only a million acres of corn, is not really a cornbelt state as it is often classified. It is east of the wheat belt and north of the cotton belt. Between these great agricultural areas there are the rolling hills of the Ohio, Cumberland and Tennessee rivers, with their relatively mild winters, cool summers and adequate rainfall. This is the natural pasture belt of eastern United States and in the center is the state of Kentucky.

The recent study made by the University of Kentucky of production potentials on the state's farm income. The total pasture area on Kentucky's 70,000 commercial farms is estimated to be over five million acres, with large additional acreages on non-commercial farms (those with less than 12,500 annual gross sales). This is a larger area than the total of all other land uses, excluding farm forestry, and it is from this acreage that much of the feed for expanded herds of beef, dairy and sheep must come.

There are two important phases of pasture development facing the state: one, improving existing stands; the other, establishing pastures on otherwise idle land.

Pasture improvement time will soon be here. It is generally the 90 to 120 days following the middle of August. After that the next period for pasture improvement will be late winter and early spring next year. Pasture establishment and renovation begin at the same place — soil testing and application of needed lime and fertilizer. It is only by soil testing that fertility needs can be known and there is no profit in sowing good seed on hungry soils. What's the best grass for Kentucky? The answer is "none." The selection will depend upon soil, fertility, use and other factors. In Central Kentucky, blue grass is a favorite; in areas where orchard grass does well it is one of the best. Kentucky 31 fescue has a wide range of adaptability and is used by more Kentucky farmers than any other. Seedbed preparation varies from field to field, depending upon present conditions and recent usage. Much of our pasture acreage is seeded to grass in the early fall with wheat, barley or rye. Pasture establishment on poor or idle fields might involve the full treatment of soil-dressing, bush and bogging, liming, fertilizing and seeding. In any case fall is a good time to start.
